3. The main reasons for the losses in the reporting period

The novel coronavirus pneumonia epidemic sweeping the world in 2020 has a huge impact on the macro-economy. The manufacturing and operation of overseas manufacturing enterprises are seriously affected, and the industry depression has continued to decline. The Company's main business is located in Europe, North America and Asia Pacific, during the reporting period, with the continuous expansion of the impact of the COVID-19, the daily production and operation of the Company's overseas subsidiaries have been adversely affected to varying degrees. Due to various travel restrictions, transnational and cross regional business activities cannot be carried out normally, resulting in the Company's annual performance losses.

(1) Decline in revenue:

Affected by the continuous epidemic throughout the year, the investment demand of the Company's downstream, such as automobile, plastic packaging and other industries, decreased, leading to the Company's new machine sales orders decreased significantly. In addition, due to the limitation of epidemic prevention and control, the Company's service orders related to equipment sales were also greatly affected. In 2020, the Company's operating revenue will be about RMB 9.7-9.9 billion, which will be RMB 700-900 million less than that in 2019.

(2) Decrease in operating profit:

During the reporting period, in order to fight against the epidemic, the company took measures such as stopping production in some countries and regions. In addition, the decline of orders also resulted in insufficient operating rate and some fixed costs could not be absorbed, which further reduced the company's operating profit.
